

One day when Charlie was cooking she made a huge mistake!! She was making her famous sinamin rolls but she cooked them for way too long! When Charlie opened the oven she smelled super burnt sinamon rolls, and now she had to make something else, she made popcorn. The directions said put 1 bag in, low for 5 minutes. Charlie put 5 bags of popcorn in, high for one minute. There wasn't just too much popcorn but it was burnt too! The next day there was an art contest that was themed food. The deadline was the next day, Charlie had the best idea! She could make all her burnt food into a sculpture. The next day she entered the contest and got first place!! She always did the the contest from then on, and she always won. Every year she would do something crazy and make it into something cool. Her unique style always won her a first place ribbon. THE END